GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —
I watched the clouds as I strode across the field this sunny day. There was a silence so profound that I could almost hear them whisper as they met, nodded, and glided through the air with ease.

The snow white pond in the distance was as full of wrinkles as an old man's forehead frowning at the chill.

But it was a breathless moment as I stood at the top of the hill and looked down across the valley at the bowl's edge viewing it in every direction.

The breezes tingled to be free.

I had gone up pond today and crossed the swamp to the hill at the Whitman farm. At a certain place that I passed was the land of cat tails. Those exclamation points rustled their sturdy stalks, bushy and soft at their topmost end. The breezes played tag among them.

Another time I went far up the Sanborn to the shallow rapids then crossed to the land of beeches toward the Patch Mountain road. Here the squirrels had been busy, for piles of empty beech nut shells were in many places while others clung to the tops of the smooth gray trees standing guard as they gently swayed in the wind.

Standing here among them, was like a day without a beginning or an end just a kind of timeless passing, like the flowing of a mountain stream.

Here lay great rotting logs partly covered with snow. The long sweeping sound of the wind made it seem as if it blew over miles of forest land.

I heard a plane pass over head. As I continued south there were many boulders; seamed, cracked, and weather beaten. The granite fragments lay piled up, one above the other to discourage travel over them. I went down to a pocket at the left where I could now stare up at the fir planked valley. Beyond that against the sky were the purple and white barriers and a land of mystery and fascination.

I followed a little brook, free in places where the water stops to rest. The tiny mosses were worthy of attention at each pool's edge. One moment there was a forest apparently going on forever while the next a tiny clearing polished to a diamond brilliance.

I wasn't sure where I'd come out but thought somewhere far down the pond. At the foot of a ridge I paused to scan the dark edge of the timbers on Noyes Mountain across the pond. In the distance I heard the croak of a raven, the first of the winter.

The silence of the woods increased and a single black crow flapped across the pond.

I kept within the forest along the shore of the pond until I was ready to cross toward home.

Looking back, the pines, hemlocks, and spruces with their spires seemed to become masters of the land. The mountains had great moving shadows and colors of blue and purple but soon to be black-black with the coming of moonlight.

Mrs. Doris Hayes visited her sisters in Portland on Monday and Tuesday. She spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Adam Waterhouse who left for Florida on Wednesday.

The brothers and sisters of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Nottage met at their home in South Paris on Sunday to greet them on their twenty-sixth wedding anniversary. Both have been married for several weeks but are better at this time. Those attending were Mrs. George Ridley, Norway; Mrs. Franze Mills, Shapleigh; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis, Mechanic Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Cydo Morgan, Greenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Homans, summer residents here, recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Chase received a phone call from their son, Randall, stationed in Missouri.

The Girl Scouts met for a meeting. Valentine tray favors were made for Ledgewood Memorial Home. A "Cook-in" will be held Wednesday.

The Mollycokett Sportsman's Club met Feb. 6 at the Ring-McKee Legion Post in West Paris for their regular meeting. Under new business, it was voted to give a donation to the March of Dimes, to send the Maine Snowmobile Association one of our new patches for their records, and discussed a note from the Canadian National Railroad about snowmobilers on their rights of way. David Ring is to check on this trespassing, and if it were possible, to try to correct any that was taking place in this immediate area.

A discussion was had on purchasing a rescue sled to be placed in town for any emergency use. After much discussion we voted to purchase the rescue sled, and to ask the towns-of West Paris and Woodstock for assistance in this project. The times and places for the Tuesday night rides were set, and March 5 was picked as the day for the Annual Field Day. The place for this field day will be announced at a later date as there is some doubt about the availability of Reddings field due to snow conditions. Speaker for the meeting was George Hill, District Fire Warden. Mr. Hill stressed the necessity of obeying snowmobile laws, and presented a snowtraveling movie "Make Tracks for Me." The By-Laws Committee presented the set of by-laws that had been drawn and the Club voted to accept them. A copy of these by-laws will be sent to each member. The new Club patches have arrived and can be picked up from the officers or at the next meeting on March 5.

A baby shower was held for Eve Day Redd at the home of Mrs. Warren Emery. Hostesses for the shower were Susan Rainey, Marjha Day, and Mary Emery. The shower was a shower-by-mail as the Reids are stationed at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. The gifts were brought and wrapped, then refreshments were enjoyed. The shower cake was made by Sylvia McCann, and some of this was frozen so that Eve will be able to enjoy it the next time they come home. Present were Susan Rainey, Marjha Day, Carol Penley, Martha Gardner, Pam Linsbeck, Jane Gurney, Eleanor Inman, Miriam Inman, Denise Gurney, Denise Emery, Nancy Garthe, Jean Ring, Cathy Ring, Mary Emery. Sending gifts but unable to attend were Judy Waterhouse, Martha Hadley, Joan Kangas. Highlight of the evening was a phone conversation with the guest of honor.

CUB SCOUTING

We're underway. Things are looking up and the planning committee is progressing rather nicely.

At a meeting held Wednesday evening the Cub Scouting Committee appointed Mrs. Juanita Korhonen Den Mother Leader. Mrs. Korhonen will act as coordinator for all the Den. Mrs. Ruth Feeney, Mrs. Beverly Corriveau, Mrs. Loretta Merrill, have volunteered their services as local Den Mothers! We could use some more help! If you are interested, why not come to our next meeting, Monday, Feb. 21, at 7:00 at the Methodist Church. It could be fun!

How about old Cub Scouting Books and uniforms? If you should have any of this material you certainly could make some boy happy—just call Joe Shimamura (836-3354) and he'll be glad to pick them up!

C'mon parents, we'd like to have more kids join our Pack—talk to your son, we're certain he would enjoy this type of excitement. Contact the Cubmaster, Ron Coulombe, at 824-2654.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell III and family of Falmouth, and Janie Luxton and Scott of Rumford spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Luxton.

Ron Deegan, Mark Bailey, John Gauthier, Kurtz Gaugler and Tom House accompanied by Frank Bean, instructor at Telstar, are spending ten days vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walker and Dean were at the University of New Hampshire in Durham, Saturday, where Dean auditioned for acceptance in the Music Department of the University.

Mrs. Robert Davis and daughter, Rebecca, returned Tuesday evening from a plane trip to Florida. They toured Disney World and Cape Kennedy, and visited Mr. and Mrs. William Von Zint in St. Petersburg.

Members of the Methodist Church are reminded of the Quarterly Conference which will be held at the church Friday evening. Supper at 6:30 followed by the business meeting with Rev. Blake Ellis, District Superintendent in attendance.

The Bethel Auxiliary of Rumford Community Hospital met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Buck. The group had as their guest speaker, John Wagner, of the Oxford County Mental Health Association.

Mr. Wagner is a social worker at clinics located at Rumford Community Hospital and at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

INCOME REQUIREMENTS FOR F. H. A. LOANS CHANGED
Daphel McAllister, County Supervisor of the Bridgton Farmers Home Administration office, recently stated that the income level for eligible applicants has been raised to $3,000, which equals gross income minus $35 and $300, for each dependent. This upward adjustment should make funds available to many persons who previously were ineligible due to high income. Anyone interested in a loan to build, buy or remodel a home should contact Mr. McAllister or Mr. Shorey at 112 Main Street in Bridgton.

NOTICE
To my friends and citizens of Bethel who signed my nomination papers, I regret to announce that ill health compels me to withdraw from the upcoming election. Many thanks to all of you who supported me.

Walter J. Cherry

LEGION AUXILIARY

The Mundt-Allen Post and Unit, No. 81, were hosts to the Oxford County Council of the American Legion, Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, at the hall on Vernon Street.

A program preceded the meetings in charge of Carolyn Brooks of Unit 81.

The Girl Scouts presented the colors and the "Pledge of Allegiance" joined by all present. Neta Littlefield should feel proud of her efforts as leader. Next was a patriotic skit, by Helen Berry's Dramatic Club of Telstar, which went back to the colonial days of George Washington, up through to today—1972, which brought down the house. Last, but not least, David Holt, a senior at Telstar, gave his Freedom Essay, sponsored by the VFW, for which he received an award as second place, among 625 students competing from the district of Maine.

At this time County Commander Bernard of Rumford, introduced State Americanism chairman, Dominic Bruno, of Augusta, who was speaker of the evening.

The Auxiliary opened their meeting with Elizabeth Foster, County President presiding. There are 11 Units which comprise the county, eight of which were in attendance, being Bethel, Buckfield, Dixfield, Locke Mills, Norway, Peru, Rumford and South Paris. Absent were West Paris, Fryeburg and Oxford.

Thirty members were counted with all officers answering the roll call. A business meeting followed. The second district vice president, Sarah Hogan of Phillips, was a guest, and she stressed membership as her topic. Elka Funk of the Foster-Carroll Unit, chairman of the Rena Howe Fund, gave her report.

It was voted to sponsor a girl from the Council to be counted at Girls State program of the year at Huxton College in Bangor. Myra Stevens of Norway is the county chairman. The next meeting will be with the Jackson-Silver No. 68, at Locke Mills, at which time the Past County Commanders and Past County Presidents Night is on the agenda March 21.

BETHEL CB MONITORS HOLD VALENTINE SUPPER

There were 25 club members and their families present on Feb. 15 when the Bethel CB Monitors held a Valentines pot luck supper at the Bethel Bible School. A lovely Valentine centerpiece was made by Mrs. Ferol Godwin. The business meeting followed the supper.

The club talked with four guests from the Sebago area, who are interested in starting a CB club in that region. They were supplied with literature and many helpful suggestions. The Monitors were pleased to be chosen to supply them with the needed information.

The next meeting will be held on March 7.
